"Administration and Staff"

Principal's Message

I want to congratulate the editor and the editorial staff on the quality of the school yearbook. The many who had no direct part in the planning, preparation, and production of the yearbook have little idea of the time and energy such an activity takes. I am sure that my congratulations are yours too.

A word of commendation and good wishes to the graduating students. I hope you consider your time at school well spent and that you emerge as better people. May the years ahead be happy and productive ones for you.

To my many new friends among the staff and students of this school I say "Thank you" for your patience, understanding, and support in what I know was a difficult year. It was a year of change and transition of people, policies, and programmes. I know the uncertainty and anxiety that changes impose on us, even when we are convinced that the changes will be beneficial. In times such as these I think it most important that we seek the middle ground for resolution of conflict. It seems to me that the continuation of a lot of the conflicts today, both personal and social, is attributable to the fact that no one wants to give up the false security of fixed ideas and prejudices. Hence, the gaps appear— the generation gap, the credibility gap, the communications gap— and many persons are prone to stand on one side or the other and shout obscenities so that any voices of moderation and reason are lost in the echoes. It may be fun for awhile but it's a poor way to solve problems.

Education leads us along the paths of moderation and reason so that we learn, by the exercise of self-discipline and intellect, to live happy lives aware of our own individuality and respecting that of others.

Vice-Principal

Mr. Miller

How much do you really know about our concerned but friendly vice-principal who brings us the daily announcements and seeks to help us contribute effectively to our school community? Mr. Miller was born in Middlessex County and, after graduating from the Ontario Agricultural College and the Ontario College of Education, started teaching at Petrolia D. H. S. He came to Leamington in 1961 as a member of the Science Department.

With four children of his own, Mr. Miller has a better understanding of, and a genuine concern for, young people of today. He is glad to see that, under our new system, students are mature enough to bear the responsibility entailed with freedom and to participate in extra functions for the benefit of others.

He would like to wish the graduates success and true happiness, and to urge the present students to work to the best of their abilities.

Vice-Principal

Mr. Wildfong

As well as a qualified French teacher, Mr. Wildfong is also a Vice-Principal of L.D.S.S. In both offices he has an excellent opportunity to deal directly with the students. He feels that the majority of the students appreciate the trust that they are given accompanying responsibility, but that the rowdy minority could infringe on the freedom of others. In his view, education should be looked upon as a privilege for those who want to plan their future meaningfully.

"Students Battle Teacher Tigers"

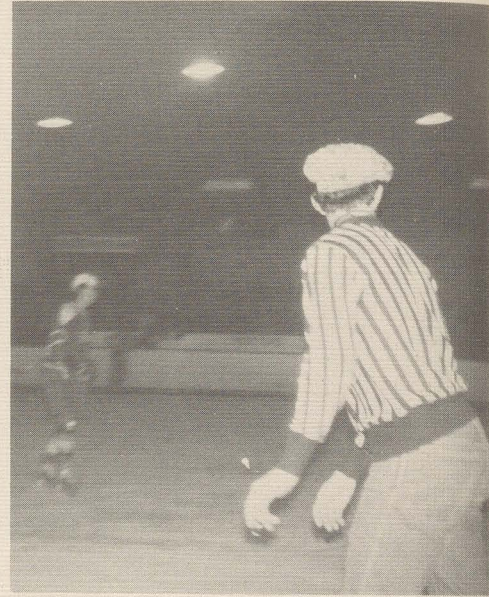

Student – Teacher Volleyball Game

Early in the school year the hockey executive played a squad of athletically-minded teachers in an effort to raise money for the school's hockey team. The action-packed game drew a large, enthusiastic crowd.

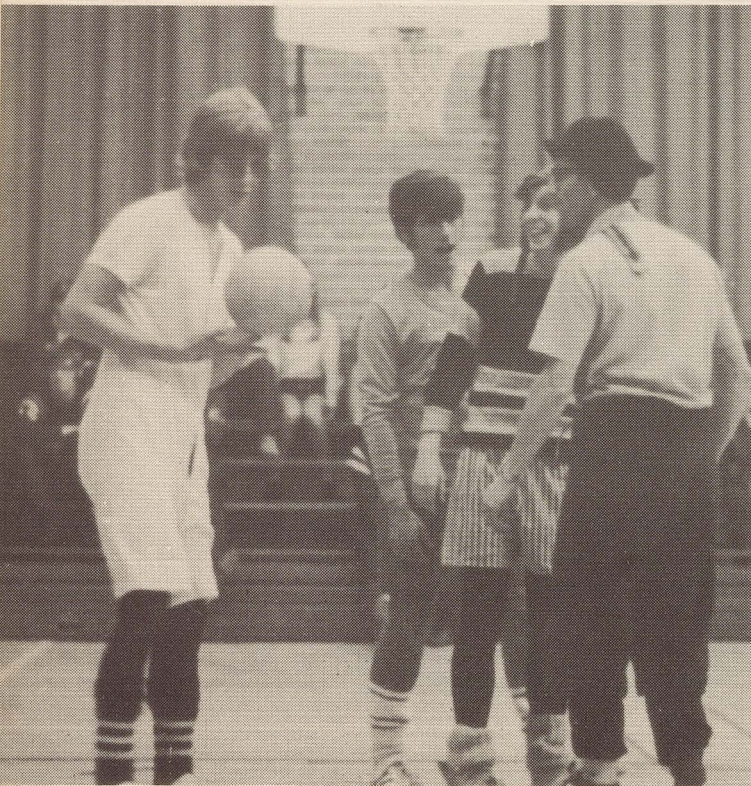

The teachers, led by the well-trained physical education teachers, the referees, and their coach, Mr. Leightizer, came from behind in the best of three series to defeat the executive. In the first game, the executive defeated the teachers easily, but towards the end of the game, the teachers began to improve. In the second game, the staff overwhelmed the surprised students to tie the series. The third game saw both teams display fanciful skill and strategy in an effort to overpower the opponent. However, in an overtime period, the staff emerged victorious. Once again, the teachers had shown their superiority on the court.

The Grade 13 Geography class of 1970-71 planned a trip to Vancouver during the winter break. Under the leadership of Mr. Westlake, the class designed many money-making schemes such as a car wash, a fashion show, coffee houses, jam sessions, and dances.

These young geographers have paved the way for others to explore Canada in future years and to become better acquainted with their country. With the aid of Mr. Westlake, Miss Smith and Mr. Zannier, these students travelled across Canada realizing new experiences and making invaluable acquaintances.

Le Tapis Rouge à Québec

In past years, senior French students have had the opportunity of visiting Quebec City during the Christmas Holidays. This trip was planned to allow the students to appreciate the French language in its true environment. This year, accommodations were again made at the Chateau Frontenac, in the heart of Upper Quebec on the St. Lawrence River. Tours of the historic city, movies, dances, and a variety of winter sports, including skating, skiing, tobogganing, and hockey, were provided for their enjoyment.

"Commencement"

On November 18 commencement exercises took place at L.D.S.S. Many graduates and undergraduates attended to receive their diplomas. Various awards and medals were accepted by the outstanding students. For the first time, the J.N. Hume Award was presented in honour of our former principal Mr. J.N. Hume. The recipients of this award were Bruno Labatte and Paula Pearsall. The valedictorian speech, given by Paula Pearsall dealt with the difference between home and university life.

"Reach For The Top"

This year four academically-minded students visited CKLW-TV and participated in the programme "Reach for the Top". Although they did not win, the contestants (Peter Dyck, Sandy Pritchard, Dennis Staudt, Ron Molzan and their spare, Reinie Kosciuw), scored many points. This score will enable them to return in the future to compete again.

The boys would like to express their thanks to Mr. Driedger, who made it possible for them to attend the programme.

THE ARTIST AS GOD

and what are the themes master and where is the sense and why is the sand not as soft as the sky and whence is it all and when is the minute a measure of life and how is the hurt if I try the dreams are the themes
the incredible dreams
the impossible schemes of love where there's hate of peace where there's pain of joy where there's jade now ask not again
for tears will not change it for talk won't arrange it that order not stand that choice may demand and there is the sense

 or pray it or paint it or live it or sing it

ENDING

The sky is falling;
Blue pieces lie among the daisies.
If I pick one up
And hold it to my eye
The world is simple.

Stars sparkle in the grass.
I'll twist one
In my hair and Run barefoot through
The scattered sky

When the sun plummets down
Catch it for a
Yellow ball.
We'll arc it high
Where the sky once was.

MRS. ANNIE BELLE vs THE MOUNTIES or – YOU'LL NEVER GET MY MAN !!

Big Bad Eddie certainly seemed suited for his occupation. He stood six two, weighed two fifty-seven, with a shallow, palid complexion, pale blue eyes, crew-cut, a broken nose and a livid scar running from his eyebrow to the tip of his jaw. He hardly looked the part of a Sunday School superintendent, nor was he one. Eddie was a professional burglar, successfully plying his trade in the wealthy sections of a well-known Canadian city.

Tonight Eddie was “knocking over” the suite of a well-to-do socialite. He had studied the house in detail and felt the job should go without a hitch. He started his approach from a nearby side street. He skirted the patch of light thrown by a gas lamp and slunk along the sides of parked cars until he reached the house. He rushed up the walk and reached the partial protection of the alcove without being discovered. He opened the door and rushed inside. His target was a suite of rooms on the first floor. It was almost impossible to make a noise on the plush golden carpeting. The walls were a pale pink and washed in a soft light from panels in the ceiling. It was a fitting exterior for the wealth hidden inside. Eddie reached the door he sought and softly turned the handle. Unlocked! Just as planned. Without a pause he went inside, swept the jewellery in his satchel, opened the safe and took all the cash and calmly stepped out into the hall again. In a flash he was thrown against the wall, one arm pinned behind his back, the other pinned between his body and the wall and an arm strongly attempting to stop the flow of air to his lungs. “This time Eddie, you were somewhat careless. You can’t expect to evade us forever you know. We always get our man”.

“Unhand that boy you brute! How dare you molest him in such a fashion. Land sakes, if he has to see a doctor due to your insufferable wrenching of his arm, I’ll have you know you’ll pay the bill!”

The Mountie almost fainted with shock as a slight elderly lady dressed in black stood waving her umbrella in his face. Her bright blue eyes fairly danced in her flushed face and she seemed to be becoming more agitated by the minute. Such violent energy is hard to imagine and such seemingly righteous wrath would preferably be avoided, if possible. The officer had to unhand the culprit in order to defend himself from this unexpected onslaught. “Lady, please! I’m trying to do my job. This man is a dangerous criminal.”

“Oh, balderdash! He wouldn’t harm a thing and that doesn’t give you the right to molest him like that”.

“Please lady, this man has just robbed this suite. He has the loot with him. He is as guilty as sin and I am going to take him in”.

“If you touch that boy again I’ll tell every paper in this city how you have treated him and me! Imagine using that karate stuff on a defenseless boy and shouting at an invalid old lady. I’m sure the Force will be glad to hear that, and I imagine your superior officers will have something to say about your getting such bad publicity for the Force. Why, I think I’ll even take you to court for defamation of character”.

Now, having considered the situation and weighing the importance of regaining protected jewellery against maintaining the good name of the Force, the officer, summoning his most charming smile and his most inoffensive tones, offered his apologies.

“I’m terribly sorry, madam. I must be mistaken. Please forgive me, no harm meant, really.”

"Well, I suppose I can overlook it this one time, but it had better not occur too often or I shall be obliged to report your atrocious behaviour".

"Yes, ma'm, I'll try to be more careful".

"I should hope so! Come along son, let us leave this boor!"

"Yes, mother".

And by the time the light had dawned, they were gone.

DREAM

Poised
In the shroud of snowing delirium
On the brink of insanity
Far from the shield of reality

Awed
By the intense terror of the imagination
The unending depths of the mind
By the helplessness of man
When pitted against his own fears.

Trapped
In the crashing painful failures
In the sweet forgotten legends
In the wistful impossible hopes.

Driven
To the core of the mind, the nucleus of the spirit
The verge of perfection
The edge of destruction

Touching
Infinity

my heart
for You, oh Love.

Football Team on

The vastly improved Lion's Football Team finished the season with a record of 2-4-1. Offensively, under the leadership of their rookie quarterback, Harry Ediger, the Lions scored 39 points compared to 19 the previous year. The defence limited the opposition to 92 points which is an improvement over the 233 points allowed in 1969.

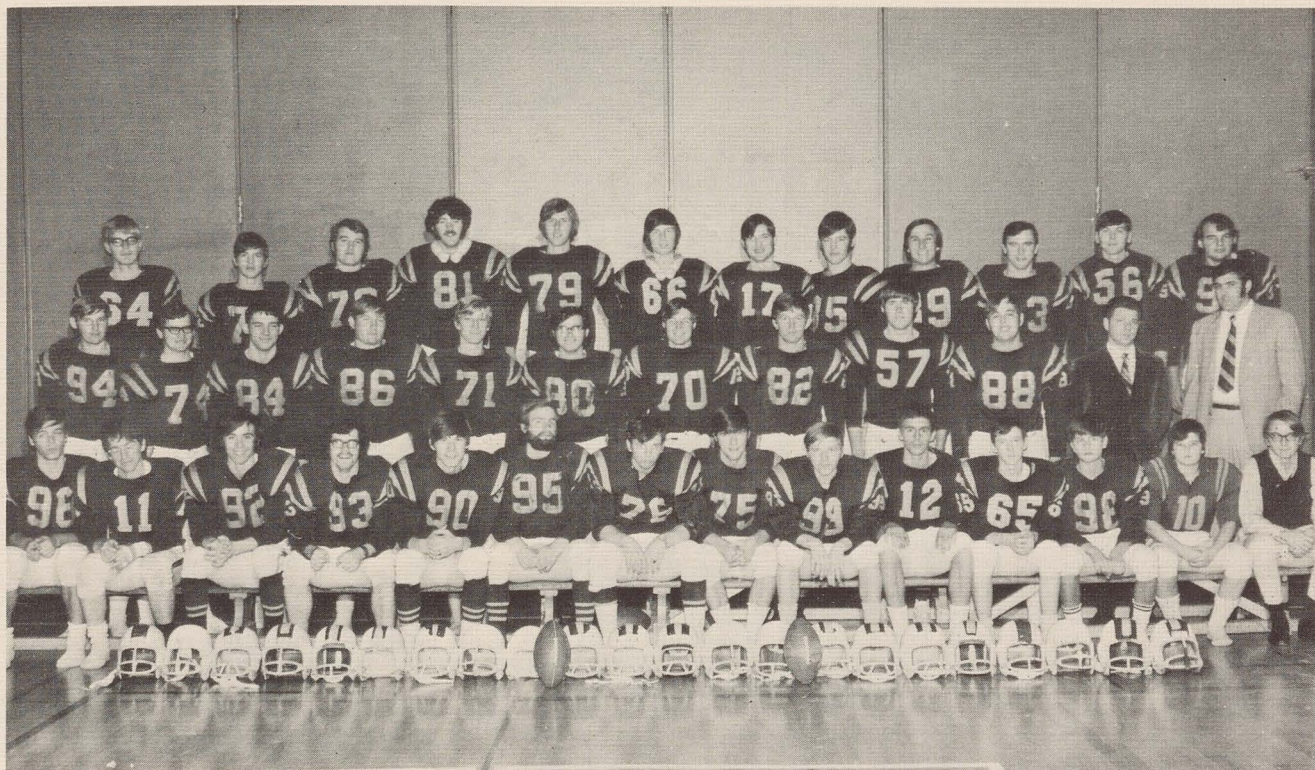

The Lions, despite the loss of several seniors due to graduation (Claire Wales, Bob Wright, Bill Myles, Mike Sallmen, Pete Anthony, Steve Smith, Tim Bradshaw, Terry Wiper, Kent Woodward, Tom Magri, Brian Loop, John Isley, and Roger Tiessen) should again improve with the return of many experienced players.

The Lions and their coaches, Mr. Zannier, Mr. Pollard, and Mr. Owens, are looking forward to next season and to the many newcomers expected to come out for next fall.

To Retain Its Laurels

Despite the fact that the Soccer team was composed of almost all first year members, they entered the playing season with determination. This sportsmanlike trait is obviously there when one realizes that the team lost only two games throughout the season, both to Harrow. The top scorers during the year were Nick Lutsch and Augustino Ingratta while Willie Krahn was the efficient goalie.

Credit must be given to all the players of the team as a whole because of their ambition and hard work and especially to their coach Mr. Purr.

Senior Boys Reach For All-Ontario

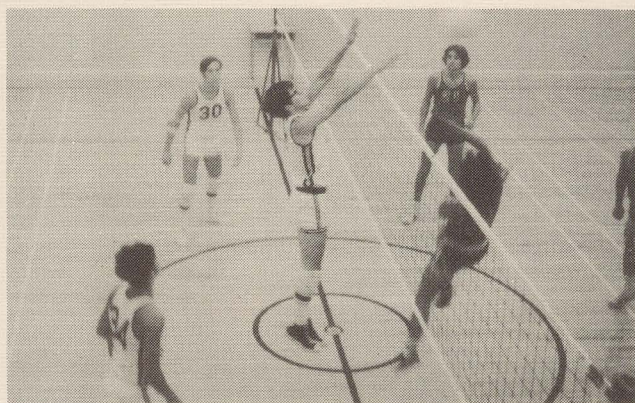

Our Senior Boys' Volleyball team proved itself to be quite able this year, as they finished the season as the top "AA" school in Essex County.

They suffered a loss early in the season to Kingsville — a battle which lasted two hours. As the tension grew and nerves were strained, the third game ended with a 21 - 19 score. The Lions lost only 2 other games, both at the hands of the Harrow Hawks who became all-Ontario champions.

Because they were the top "AA" school, the skilled team, under the coaching of Mr. Myers, qualified for S.W.O.S.S.A. finals. In the first play-off game they beat Wallaceburg, and then easily coasted past Brennan. In the finals they beat Massey 15 - 0 the first game, but Massey rallied to take the championship.

Many of the coaches and players congratulated our team as the finest they had ever seen, and wished them luck at O.F.S.S.A. in Guelph where, although they fought valiantly, other teams proved themselves better.

Junior Boys' - First Year Shows Promise

This year Leamington had its first Junior Boys' Volleyball Team coached by Mr. Hildebrandt and Frank Ehrenreich. At the end of the regular season the team was tied with Kingsville with a record of 3 wins and 2 losses.

The E.C.S.S.A. championship was decided at a five-team round-robin tournament at Kingsville. After suffering defeats from Harrow and Kingsville in the first two series, the Juniors went on to soundly defeat St. Annes and then slip past Essex. As a result, they ended up in third place and qualified for the semi-finals. They defeated Harrow and then went on to face Kingsville. The first game they lost 15 - 10 and then Kingsville beat them 15 - 4 and became E.C.S.S.A. champs.

The boys played quite well this year. There is a tremendous amount of potential in most of the players who will be seniors next year. Mr. Hildebrandt and Frank are looking forward to next year's season and the newcomers to the sport.

Senior Girls' Close To E.C.S.S.A.!!

This year's Senior Lionettes did exceptionally well, racking up a total of six wins and four losses during their regular season. With the great determination of Karen Otton, Linda Baerg, Rina Marcovecchio, Elsie Jacob, and Diana Vanderhoven, they entered the E.C.S.S.A. semi-finals against Sandwich, but went on only to bow to Amherstburg for the E.C.S.S.A. title.

Although they have no pennants to show for their hard work, they are to be congratulated for their fine sportsmanship and school spirit.

Juniors Bow in Competition

This year the Junior Girls' Volleyball team, under the leadership of Miss Thompson, ran into some tough competition from other county schools.

The team displayed great effort and skill. The more active members included Laurel Wigle, Gail Fletcher, Kathy Sadler, Fay Arnoldt, Sandy Maksoud, and Linda Rose. The Junior team did not measure up to par this year, but with enough participation, perhaps 1971-72 will be the season for Junior Girls' Volleyball.

Tennis Team Swings With Success

Once again this year our school tennis team proved Leamington's supremacy. After an almost complete sweep of E.C.S.S.A. play, our team moved on to S.W.O.S.S.A. where Laurel Wigle and Greg Dufour captured the title in their division. Then they went on to all-Ontario play. Although they did not win, they proved Leamington can compete and hold its own with the very best.

This year's Boys' Golf team managed only a third place finish in the E.C.S.S.A. tournament held at Kingsville. The house competition which was held at Erie Shores, was won again this year by Gamma. For the first time this year, there was a girl's team too, although they only played nine holes. Because the other county schools did not send complete teams to compete at Kingsville, a championship was not decided. Next year promises great things from the Juniors who were on this year's team.

Curling Sweeps into Action

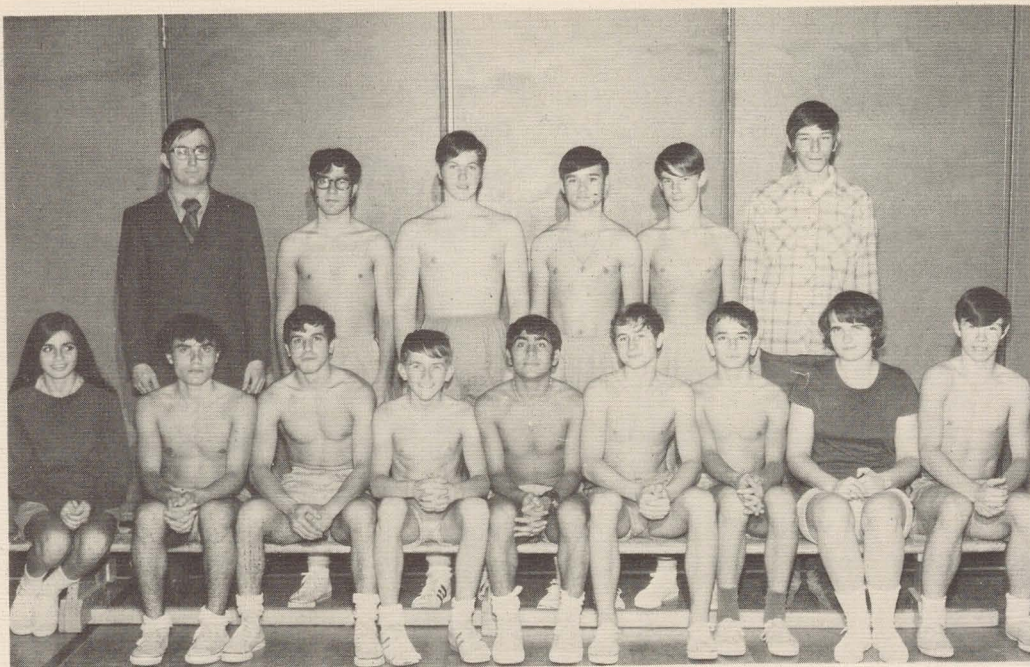

Each Thursday from 3:30 — 5:30 P.M. at the Leamington Curling Club our school team curls and practices in order to ready themselves for inter-school competition. Under the guidance of Mr. Miller, the team helps teach those who are new to the game as well. This sport is very interesting and although not as prominent as it used to be, our curlers still have plenty of L.D.S.S. spirit.

Cross Country Completes Impressive Season

A surprising amount of effort was displayed this year by participants on the Cross Country team to obtain the best results in the Cross Country meets.

Sonya Ehrenreich was undefeated in the local meets. In the E.C.S.S.A. meet, the girls' team placed fourth out of eight teams. The team included Sonya Ehrenreich, who placed first, Mary Newland, Miriam Grant, Marian Kosciuw, and Teresa Huy.

The Junior Boys' Team also placed fourth out of eight teams. Members included Andy Coppola, who stood seventh, Phil Faubert, Ed Krahn, Allan Carey, and Paul Sarkis. In the S.W.O.S.S.A. meet at Rondeau, the boys ranked in the top 60%.

Their energetic coach, Mr. Lusina, and the rest of the team are looking forward to next fall's season with enthusiasm.

Under the direction of their experienced coach, Mr. Adamache (Punch), our Lions' hockey team completed their first season. The team received financial backing from an executive group managed by Rob Eppllett.

At the close of their exhibition season, the team had made a good showing. Because the Essex Raiders were the only other high school team, it was this team which they faced to begin play-offs.

Although the season was not a complete success, it did initiate the sport at L.D.S.S., and we can look forward to better results next season.

Senior Girls' Capture E.C.S.S.A.

SENIOR GIRLS' BASKETBALL

With an 8 wins — 2 losses seasonal backing, the Leamington Lionettes drove hard to bring a championship victory to L.D.S.S. They completed the season in a three-way tie with Harrow and Amherstburg for first place.

In a hard-fought, sudden-death game played in Kingsville, the girls rallied to a 45-39 victory against Harrow. A flip of the coin placed Amherst in first place and Leamington in second. The Lionettes now faced Essex, the first place team in the northern division. In the sudden death game played in Essex, the Raiders bowed to Leamington 33 — 24.

In a two game total points battle for the championship, the girls faced their long-time rivals — Amherst. The first game saw the Lionettes squash Amherst 56 — 22. Even though the Amherst squad rallied with a 41 — 26 victory in the next game, Leamington captured the E.C.S.S.A. title 82 — 63.

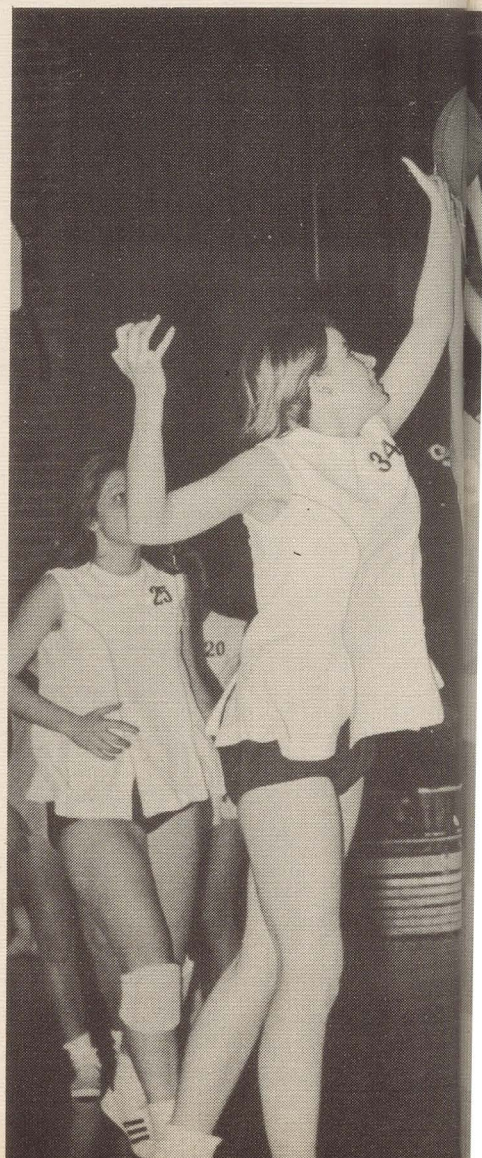

In S.W.O.S.S.A. action, the Lionettes were matched against Chatham C.I. in a two-game total points series. Even though they won the first game at home (39 — 36), the girls were defeated 52 — 43 in a fast-moving, hard-fought battle in Chatham.

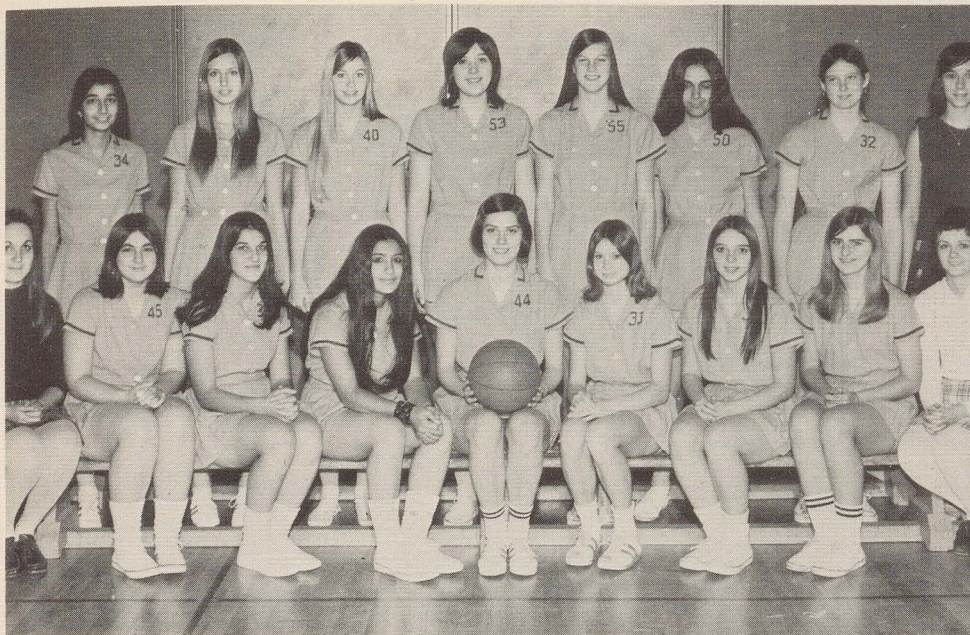

The three top scorers were Debbie Sadler, Sonya Ehrenreich, and Miriam Grant. Rina Marcovecchio and Linda Baerg both followed close behind.

Under the leadership of the captain, Rina Marcovecchio, the team combined all its individual talent into a spirited, hard-working, and victory-hungry group. All worked together in an effort to win and to play a good game.

The team was proud to play under the skilled coaching of Miss Borschke. They would also like to extend a special thanks to Mr. Zannier who, along with Miss Borschke, gave unselfishly of his time and experience in making the squad the number one team in the County.

While Junior Girls Gain Valuable Experience

JUNIOR GIRLS' BASKETBALL

This year's Junior Girls' team completed a rather unsuccessful season, and ended with a record of 2 wins and 8 losses. Since most of their first string S.W.O.S.S.A. team of the previous year had graduated to the senior team, the majority of the junior players were inexperienced.

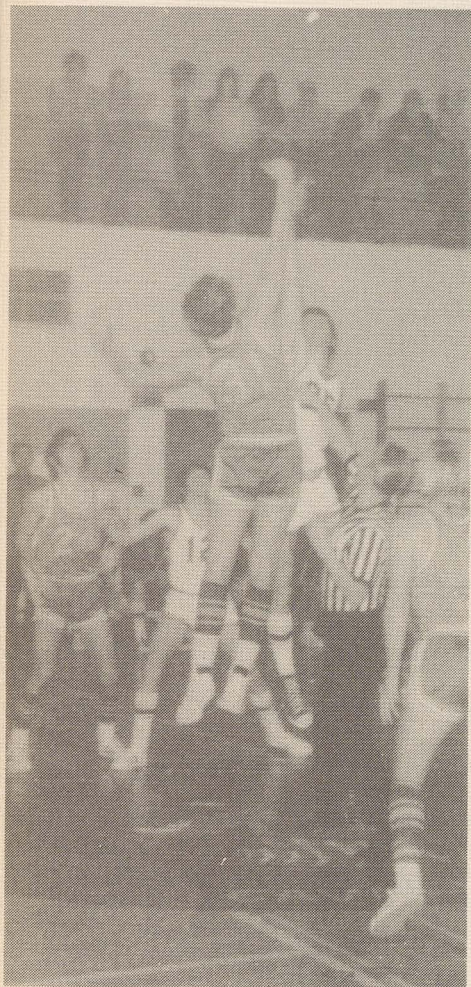

The outstanding players for this team were Gail Fletcher, Marian Kosciuw, Rose Gubinczki, Linda Rose, and Marg Koppert.

With the experience gained from this season, it is hoped that next year's team will be more successful.

Senior Boys Bow to County Competition

RIGHT: John Newland fakes out his opposition.

This year's Senior Boys' Basketball team was comprised of an enthusiastic group of young men. Despite a multitude of injuries, a lack of experience, and the short time they had to practice together, the boys fought hard for a third place finish in their division.

The team's starting five this year were Al Bachmeier, Harry Ediger, Bill Paterson, Roger White and Bruno Konrad. John Newland, Sandy Pritchard, Al Diniro, Doug Down, Danny Adams, Werner Penner, Gary Langeman and Rick Myers were the backup players who helped whenever the others were in trouble. The experience they gained this year will give them an edge in the league next year.

This year's coach was Mr. McAdam who worked hard fashioning the players into a well-knit unit. The manager, Russel Steel and assistant-manager, Brent Heatherington, were helpful at practices and behind the bench during the games. Although they were not victorious, the team members deserve applause for their hard work and good sportsmanship throughout the season.

Junior Boys Face Tough Odds

The Junior Boys opened their season with a disappointing start. They were defeated in their first seven starts but on February 5, they placed their first win against Amherst. On February 12, they came out ahead of Harrow by a 53-46 margin. The game had to be settled in overtime. Although the team had a rather bad year, they gained valuable experience which will surely benefit next year's team. Among the key-men for the team were Tony George, Steve Cincurak (captain), Kirk James, Gary Miller and Dave Tippet. Special mention should be given to Dan Tofflemire, Don Kindt, Andy Coppola, and Bill Pike. Through victory and defeat, these boys displayed teamwork, determination, and team spirit while under the experienced guidance of Mr. Myers.

This year the Essex County schools opened their first organized Grade 9 league. The main reason for this is to pick out the best talent entering high school and give them that very important extra year of experience.

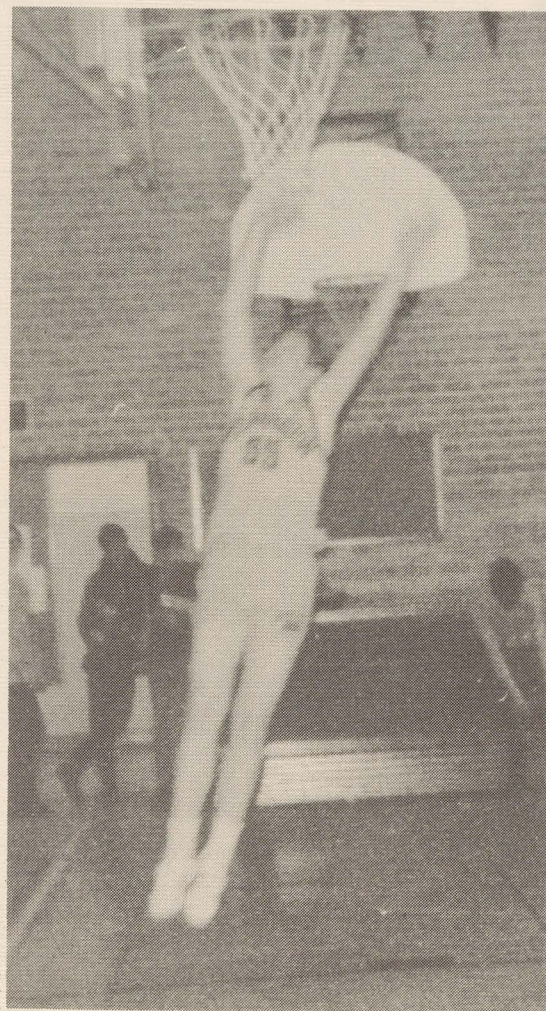

The Leamington Freshmen squad started off the season against a powerful Amherst squad who ran the boys right off the court, 31-16. With this loss under their belts, the Freshmen Players put more effort into their practices and worked at various fundamentals of the game.

The next game was against Harrow in Leamington. The Lions trounced them 47-26. The following week Essex was beaten by this vastly improved team, 37-12 at Essex. Kingsville was belted 32-12. In their second encounter with Amherst the Freshmen put on a fourth quarter surge and emerged with a 29-17 victory. When Leamington went to Harrow, they faced an improved team, although the Lions walloped them 46-24. After their final game with Kingsville the team ended their season tied with Amherst with a 6-1 record.

The team will enter the ECSSA tournament to determine the Freshmen Champion, and give some indication of Leamington's future potential.

The top scorers for the team were Ken Derksen, who averaged 11 points per game and Sam Maksoud who averaged 7 points per game. The other scoring was spread out evenly with many players averaging 5 points per game. The team's overall success can be attributed to their ball handling and height.

Frank Ehrenreich of 12A is to be commended for the time and effort which he devoted to the building up of Leamington's first Freshmen Team.

To our knowledge, the Phoebus has never contained a contribution from the track team. The track season inevitably follows the printing of the yearbook, and hence, no track team has been previously represented. We are very grateful that we shall be recognized this year.

As the records show, Leamington has had a number of good "tracksters", but seldom have we been well represented in the provincial meets. Indeed, great dedication is needed to allow such rewards. Leamington has the talent that is necessary; what we lack is the ambition to work harder and alone when necessary. If we had more interest in the sport at this school, we could invest in better equipment and facilities that would make training and competing less hazardous, but most of all, more challenging. Our ambition would then be stimulated through the better competition produced within this school.

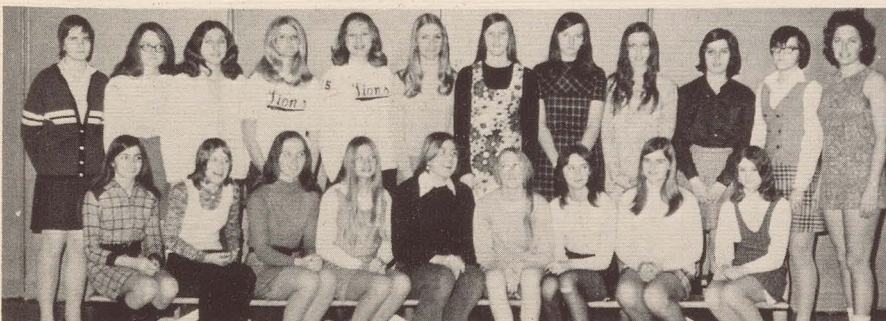

Track and field is fast growing in interest and participation in Canada today, especially since Montreal will be hosting the 1976 Summer Olympic Games. The quality of high school athletes is increasing at a fast pace. Unless we can be satisfied with being losers, this school must also progress. If only for the sake of school spirit, come out and compete this year in some of the events, whether or not you think you can succeed. The interest that you show will do much for your school, the track team, and yourself.

CHEERLEADERS

School spirit is essential to every school. Present at every type of game played at home or abroad are the school cheerleaders who cause this spirit to break out in enthusiastic crowds supporting their team. Under the direction of Miss Smith and Miss Borschke, these girls are constantly practising to improve their style and learn new cheers to present to the crowds.

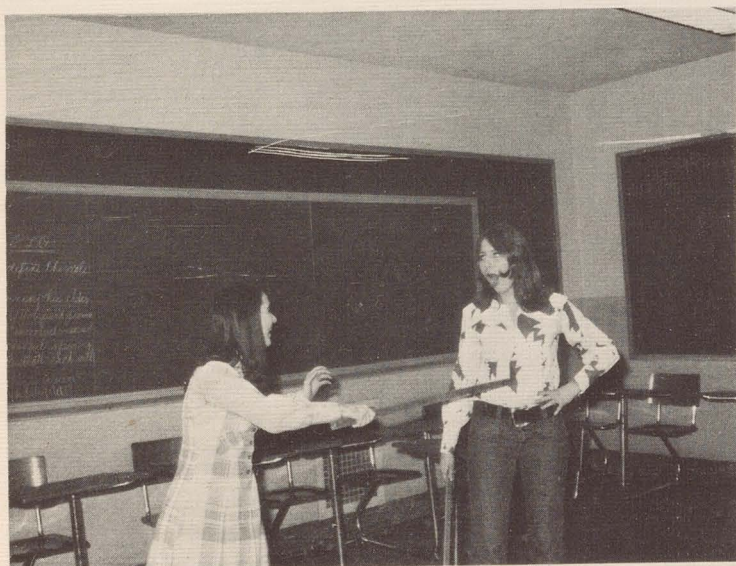

School spirit is important, but equally important are these cheerleaders who symbolize this spirit and are needed to relay it to the fans.

Junior Drama

A group of twenty-five interested actors and actresses formed this year's Junior Drama Group. Under Mr. Dumouchelle's direction, These potential players learned the basic movements on stage, and some short improvisations, and pantomimes earlier in the season. The group is now working on the production of the play "The Romancers", by Edmond Rostand.

Grade 12 Drama

Susan Hewett, Shelley Slater, Bob Newland, Anna Matassa, Mr. D. Hewett, Barbara Wiper, Mona Sleiman.

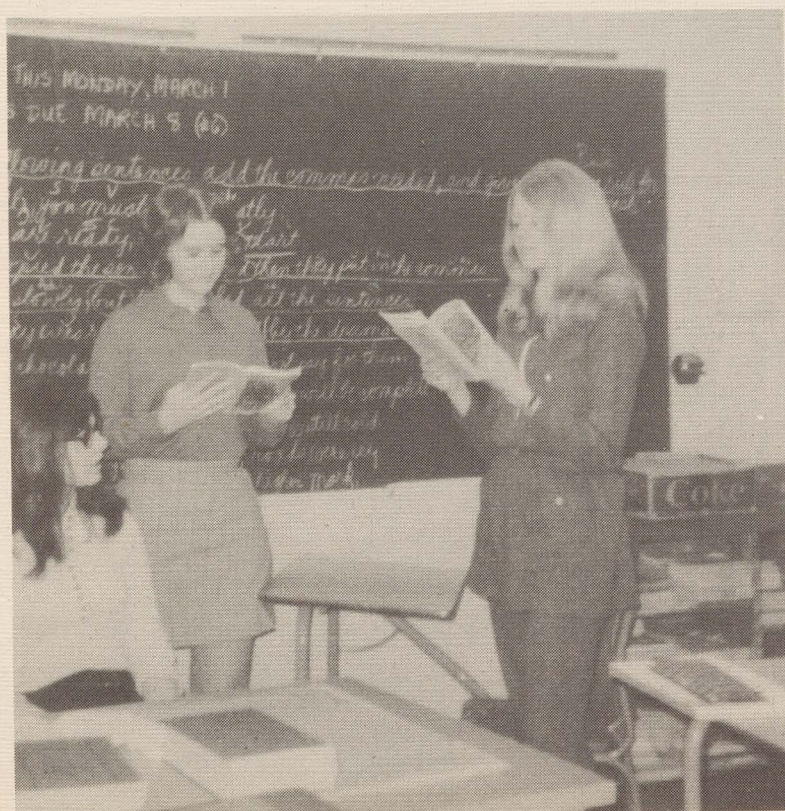

"Seven Nuns at Las Vegas" is the name of the play being produced by the Grade 12 Drama Group. In this play, seven nuns are trapped by a quirk of fate in the wicked city of Las Vegas. The seven messengers of God struggle to convert the misguided souls of this sinful habitation.

FRONT ROW (L-R): Regina Redler, Debra Butler, Judy Coyle, Deborah Caldwell, Elizabeth Reid, Sandy Campbell, Brenda Brown, Nancy Mills, Joanna Wajda. SECOND ROW: Carol Myronyk, Jill Varga, Larry Garwood, Roger Epp, Bill Paterson, Douglas Coyle, Beverley Read, Louise Anderson, Miss Ternan. ABSENT: Linda Baerg, Theresa George, Robin Reed, Brian Kenna, Bob Newland.

The Senior Drama Club of '71, under the skillful direction of Miss Ternan and Mrs. Brown, is presenting the play "Pride and Prejudice". The play concentrates on Mrs. Bennet's (Carol Myronyk) determination to get her daughters married. Jane (Theresa George), Elizabeth (Nancy Mills) and Lydia (Linda Baerg) are likely-looking girls in a dismal period when a woman's one possible career is matrimony. Anything short of a "MRS." was considered a failure.

RIGHT: Sharon Preston receives some help at the piano.

The combined voices of the Junior and Senior Glee Club are on their way to another successful year.

As in the past, under the excellent direction of Mr. Cobbledick, the Glee Club's first performance was at Commencement in November. In December, to contribute to the Christmas spirit, Carol Services were held at the Leamington United Church and also the Home for Senior Citizens.

The Glee Club is looking forward to a trip to Parkdale Collegiate in Toronto.

The music committee, which chooses all of the selections, consists of Debbie Wiper, Helga Penner, Sharon Preston, David Walker, Henry Derksen, and Don Taves. The accompanist, Debbie Preston, also deserves praise for her efforts.

Girls' Soccer

Among the many new activities at L.D.S.S. this year, girls' soccer enjoyed an enthusiastic response. Since this was the only female soccer team in the country, the girls had to be content with intra-mural competitions.

The teams consisted of the Cougarcats and the Panthers. Maria Corpolongo was the top scorer, while Rose-Marie Symes, Susanne Dyck, and Linda Patkau displayed agility in the nets. The Panthers emerged the champions of the season.

To show that they were not "green" on the field, the girls challenged the Boys' Soccer Team to a match. With the combined efforts of the entire girls' team, some members of the boys' team, and a few enthusiastic staff members, the girls managed to tie the boys (0-0).

It is hoped that the enthusiasm and good sportsmanship displayed in the fall will inspire members and new-comers to come out for renewed soccer action in the spring.

Special thanks go to Miriam Grant who organized and coached the girls, as well as being a player herself.

The Lion's Roar for 1970-71 was an extremely different paper from previous years. The total concentration on school activities was dropped in exchange for slight concentration on school activities and a heavy leaning towards literary works, thoughts and philosophies, and reports from the entertainment world. The paper was intended to be the work of the students. Anyone who wished could submit any work for publication. The barrel received mainly poetry and gum wrappers. Response to the Lion's Roar varied considerably. The Lion's Roar staff would like to thank all those who supported the paper and its barrel.

Editorial

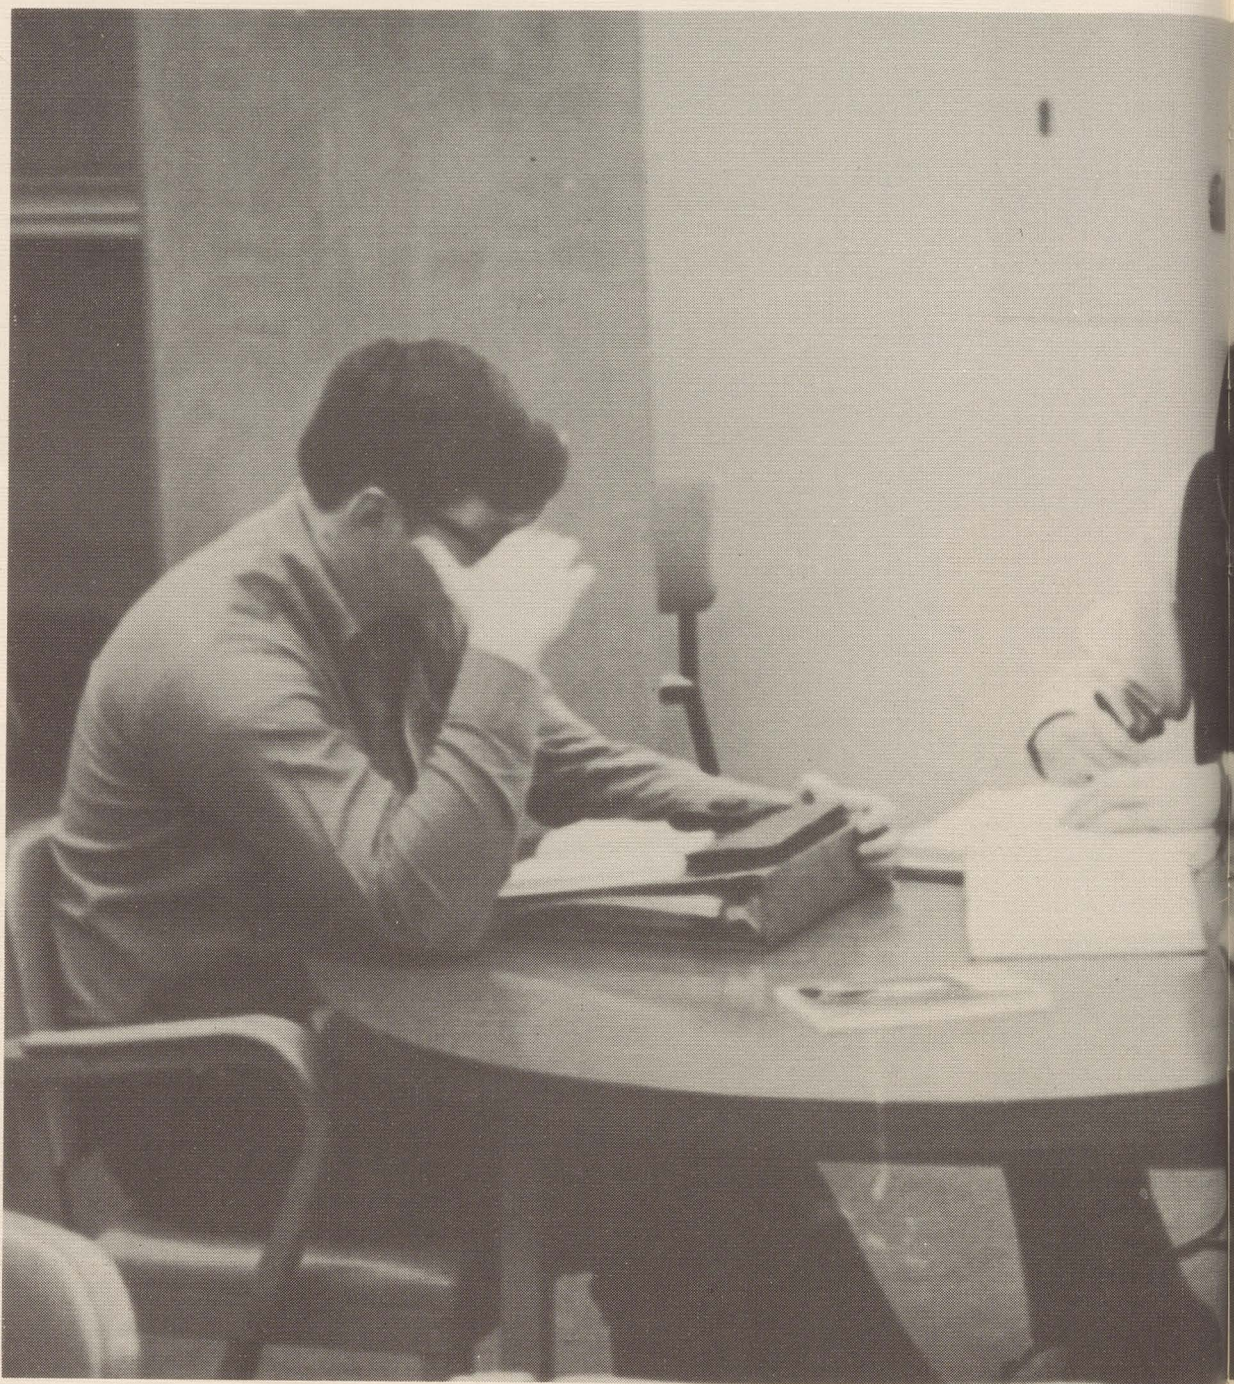

This school year has brought many changes to the school life and activities at L.D.S.S. Change usually brings frustration and difficulties, but it is through new experiences and challenges that we develop fuller personalities and become better citizens in the school and eventually the outside community.

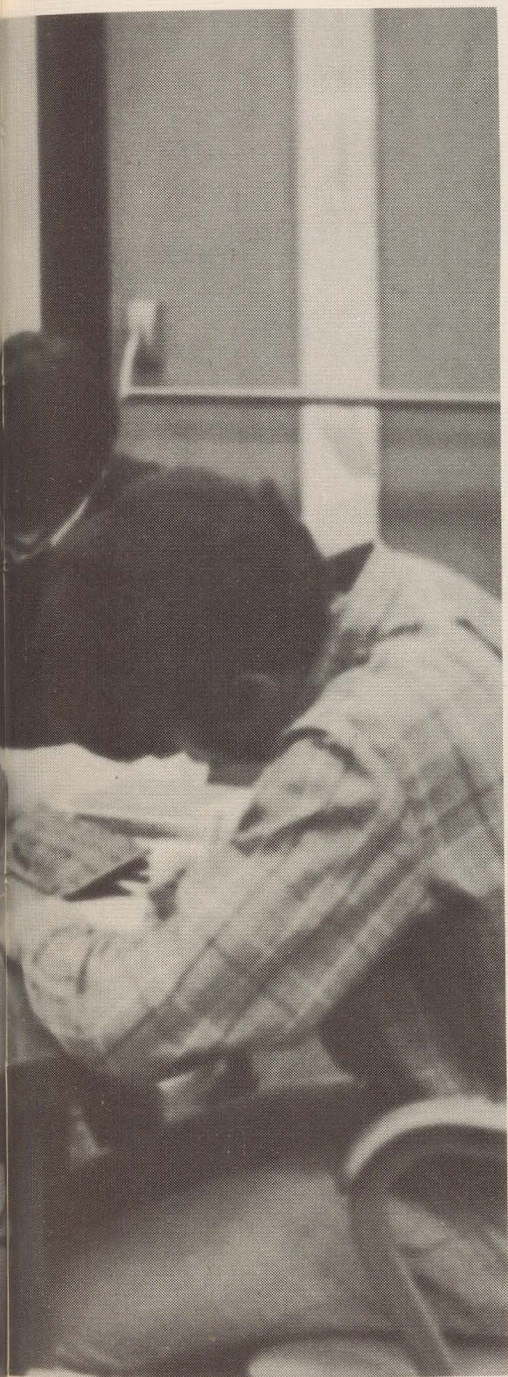

If this yearbook serves to reflect the academic, as well as the social and athletic activities which took place in the school community this year, then it has served its purpose.

I would like to thank specifically Mr. Leightizer, Mr. Graydon, Reinie Kosciuw, Mrs. Peterson and the office staff, the volunteer typists, Bob McIntosh and Gary Tetzlaff for their excellent photography work, Max Moran, who judged the candid Photo Contest, and all those who worked to make this yearbook a relevant review of the school activities of this year. Since this was the first year that advertising was solicited for the Phoebe, a very special thanks goes to Mr. Darocy and the Commercial students who worked so hard to make this venture a success.

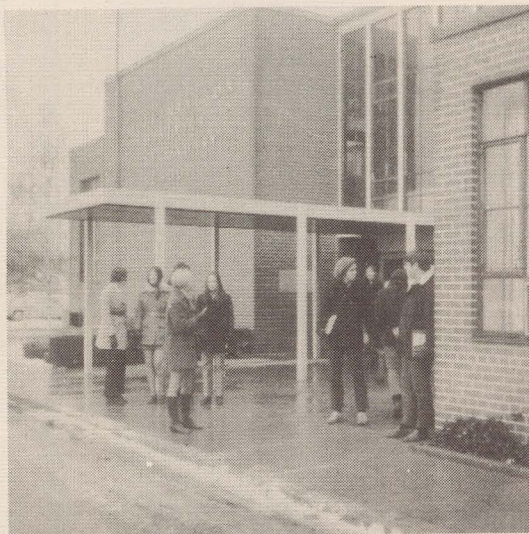

Only through involvement is it possible for us to realize our own potential and that of others around us. Only through a merging of ideas and a co-operative effort may we seek to produce a work worthy of satisfaction and pride. Through a brief reflection of the past may we better interpret the present and look to the future with new hope. It is with these thoughts that we present to you "Phoebe '71".

Man—you've got a lot to live.
Live it like you mean it. Grab hold of life and run with it.
And when you work up a man-sized thirst, grab hold of an ice-cold Pepsi-Cola and drain it.
Pepsi's got the taste and energy a man comes to a cola for.
And it's got it like no other cola in town.

You've got a lot to live. Pepsi's got a lot to give.
